FromCounsel. Automated documents from the experts.

By automating FromCounsel's best-in-class precedent documents on a market-leading platform, FC Documents empowers corporate fee-earners to produce accurate, high-quality document suites in a fraction of the time previously required. With hundreds of maintained documents delivered as a turnkey automated solution, FC Documents provides corporate teams with a truly full, yet affordable, service.

Coverage includes all key transaction documents as well as many key corporate actions. In addition, constant maintenance by the FromCounsel and Erskine team means the time-consuming but critical task of updating documents to reflect changing legislation is taken care of, allowing lawyers to utilise that time elsewhere and eliminating the risk of using out-dated documents.

As the premium corporate knowledge provider, FromCounsel only works with leading automation solutions. The user-friendly MS Word-based Document Drafter solution has the capability to automate even the most complex suites. A real-time preview with track changes shows the impact of questionnaire input whilst drafting. There is also the option of house-styling and individual customisation.

Suite-based automation means that all key documents and ancillary documentation (such as minutes, letters, resolutions and powers of attorney) are produced by completion of a single questionnaire. A single point of entry for information both reduces error risk and input duplication and vastly increases the time-savings. A Companies House look-up populates information directly from the register in multiple entry points via a single look-up.

The reach of the automation and the drafting optionality ensures that the solution caters for a wide range of transaction options including, for example, multiple consideration structures within the SPA suite.

Extensive drafting notes and legal guidance ensure document production is based on informed and well-reasoned decisions. In addition, junior lawyers can learn and upskill whilst producing documents through the integration of FromCounsel's best-in-class legal knowledge.

Empower your fee-earners to produce exceptional documents in a fraction of the time required to produce documents manually or using single-document automation. Further free up resource by eliminating the need to produce and maintain an internal document bank.

Subscriptions ensure ultimate flexibility of use by providing unlimited access at an annual per person cost akin to an hour’s average charge-out rate for a fee-earner.
